

Fun under the Sun

Northeast Ohio Nepali Community
Summer Picnic
September 12, 2009
Edgewater Park in Cleveland

The Nepali Community of Cleveland organized a picnic for its members on September 12, 2009 at Edgewater Park, a beautiful park at the shore of Lake Erie. Although it was a last-minute plan, a good number of people attended the potluck picnic. The members spent most of the time socializing, enjoying the kite festival at the park and having a great time at the beach.

The kite festival was organized by The Ohio Society for the Elevation of Kites. Every year the OSEK organizes kite festival in Cleveland during the second weekend of September.

NAOO had organized similar picnics in the past at this park where almost 100 members attended. This year's picnic was smaller in scale compared to the ones in the past. The Northeast Ohio Nepali community of NAOO would like to thank Dr. Rabin Shrestha for taking the lead and organizing the picnic before we say bye to Summer 2009.

We all had a good time ☺
